VOLUME XI. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

RUFUS KING & CO.

Thursday Morning, May 31.

FROM OUR NEW YORK CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, May 24, 1855.

Our spring advances coldly, but not therefore injuriously, for the cool weather, without frost, is not unfavorable to the crops that first mature and on which the greatest reliance is placed—hay, oats, potatoes, and wheat; and at the present almost famine prices, even the dwellers in cities occupy their thoughts not a little with the weather and all other elements that may affect, favorably or otherwise, the supply of food in the future. Hereabouts, the promise in everything is abundant—fruits and grain—except as to Indian corn, which is not yet up, or even generally planted. But until new supplies do arrive, we are forced to pay enormously for everything we eat, save only fish—of which, shad especially, the run this year is abundant beyond the ordinary rate, a providential compensation—why not?—for deficiencies elsewhere and in other things.

Our city is busy as usual at this season, and prosperous; there are not, indeed, as many new enterprises—especially in building—as in former years, but there is substantial progress and ease, notwithstanding the continued export of coin.—A more settled feeling exists that our foreign relations are not likely to be disturbed, and that of itself gives security and animation to industry: for it is certain that, in the earlier part of the year, a good deal more uneasiness prevailed among commercial men about the projects of the Administration against Cuba and Spain than was apparent on the surface. Happily, the complete exposure, now so thoroughly accomplished by the late letter of Mr Faxar, the Secretary of Legation at Madrid, of the most un-American ways and conduct and character of the French diplomat sent by Mr. Pierce to represent America in Spain—has opened all eyes to the dangerous pass in which we were placed, and will effectually put a stop to any more bullying on the part of the Administration, or successful filibustering on the part of the reckless adventurers who have kept the public in trouble so long already. I hope you will publish Mr. Perry's letter. The people of the whole nation should be grateful to him for his manly courage in doing his duty, and telling the truth. This will probably be his only reward for it—will greatly differ from all the antecedents of Mr. Pierce's administration if this truly patriotic exposé by Mr Perry of the abuse of power and station and opportunity by Mr Soule do not lead to the recall of the honest functionary, and to his degradation, so far as such an administration can degrade such a man.

The Virginia election, which takes place today, is much talked of, and much seems expected of it in the way of political or rather party effect and indifference, according as it shall eventuate. I do not very well understand why; for it is the only question which now seems to me of any moment—upon the only live issue in our politics—Freedom versus Slavery—there is no difference in Virginia. All men, of all parties there, go for Slavery now and forever; and therefore to us of the Free States, and of the party of Freedom now and forever, it seems a matter of entire indifference who the Wise or Flourney triumph at the polls, for the black flag covers both hosts and both leaders. As to the so called "American" issue, supposed to be represented by Mr. Flourney, it lacks the foundation stone of all true Americanism—equality of races and of rights; for the creed of Mr. Flourney's supporters is proscriptive of race and of creeds—the proscription of white freemen, if not born on the soil and of black men, wherever born. This is not American, however, Virginian it may be.

For myself, therefore, I look with absolute indifference upon the result, for it is the triumph in one case, of the old effete, corrupt, sham democracy, or in the other, of this new un-American party; and with neither have I the least sympathy. The only good of any kind I can foresee from the contest is the breaking down of the old machinery and old leaders in Virginia, who have so long bound that great state in leading strings, and thwarted its growth, and dwarfed its influence, and stained its ancient honors, by their narrow, selfish, exclusive, and corrupt policy.

In a day or two more we must have later tidings from the Crimea, with little change, I apprehend from the last, beyond the assurance that every day of unsuccessful bombardment adds to the conclusion that the besiegers, so-called, and not the besieged, are to be the vanquished party at last. A hope of peace still existed in the rumored purpose of Prussia to mediate, but it seems to me contrary to all reason and experience to assume that the Russian Emperor, knowing that his enemies are in a trap from which they cannot escape, and that the coming heats of summer will fight on his side in the Golgotha where he counted the allied forces as did the frosts and storms of winter—should listen in earnest to any overtures of peace, whether from Prussia, or Austria, or both. His mind is made up, I think, for victory and a free egress to the Mediterranean, and with nothing short of that will he rest satisfied.

The Mails—A Pleasant Prospect:

We have made some inquiry as to the prospect before us, and this is the result—unofficial, but still pretty near the truth, we think.

The mail contract is to bring the mail once a day, leaving Chicago in the morning, and arriving here in the afternoon. The Lake Shore R. R. Co. has bought off, or hired off, the boats, and there is now no day boat either way. Well—one would naturally suppose that the rail road company takes the mails, at once, and brings them here, so as to gain several hours time. Verily! publics! the R. R. Company does no such thing, but declines to carry the mail by cars at all, unless at rates which it considers just, but the Government exorbitant; and, allowing the mail to lie over in Chicago all day, brings it by the night boat thus making a delay of 24 hours at that city. Of course the Postmaster here puts on the fine every day, and it seems a question of endurance between the Department and the Company the public meanwhile being scandalously abused by somebody.

To our mind it seems as if the Lake Shore R. R. Co., would make money by carrying the mails twice a day gratis rather than by stealing out, when they have the whole game in their hands, incontinent which, even if undeserved, will nevertheless be certain to come upon it. Think of it, gentlemen!

GREAT WESTERN R. R. STEAMERS.—The steamers belonging to the Great Western Railway are the splendid steamers America, Capt. Masson, and Canada, Capt. Willoughby. These vessels have been designed, built and furnished under the superintendence of Capt. Masson, are of large dimensions, being 300 feet long, with engines of great power. They are to run from Hamilton to Oswego, touching at Toronto, leaving Hamilton on the arrival of the Western train in the afternoon and reaching Oswego in abundant time for the New York train, reaching that city early in the evening.

LAKE SHORE RAIL ROAD.—The travel on this road increases rapidly. The Chicago Press of Wednesday says that the morning train from Milwaukee was so crowded that many passengers had to stand up in the cars.

FREIGHTS BY THE COLLINGWOOD ROUTE.—The freight shipped from Chicago, per Key Stone State, on her last trip down, reached New York in twelve days. The usual time for freight by the Collingwood route is as follows:—to Oswego, five days, to Ogdensburgh six days, to Montreal seven days, and to New York and Boston, 12 days.

Board of Trade Meeting—The Harbor Business.

Things are decidedly "working" in relation to the Straight Cut, and we are beginning to get where we can see a little glimpse of daylight.—At the meeting of the Board of Trade on Tuesday evening, Ex-Mayor Kilbourn, on behalf of Capt. Hawley, the contractor, occupied the whole evening with a speech, so long that no time remained for any action by the Board, or for us to write out the notes taken thereof. We give now a condensed summary of the statements made by Mr. Kilbourn.

He stated that the dredging through to the lake is half done, that four cribs are framed, ready for sinking, and which will make 400 feet of pier and that they will be sunk in three weeks. That 58,000 ft. of timber has been purchased and delivered on the works, 12,000 ft framed, and that there are 50,000 ft. at Oak Creek and 30,000 ft. at Two Rivers. That all the timber is got out, nearly half of it delivered here, and the remainder will be delivered as fast as it is needed. That the contractor is as conscious of the need of a new dredge as are "those who write newspaper paragraphs." That 1000 cords of stone are procured for the piers. That the amount of the contractor's expenditure on the work is $35,000, while the figures of his contract for the first three sections are $48,900.

That he has done dredging in the river to the amount of $3000, and has received $10,000 on that contract. That he has paid $4000 in discount and interest on the bonds already received. That an outlay of $15,736 for pile driver, scows, &c. &c., was necessary in order to commence the work. When the work is completed, the contractor would be in debt, but would have these necessary "implements," with which to go on with other work.

That $8000, or $10,000 must be had for the purchase of a new dredge, as the one in use is not sufficient to complete the contract in time; and that Mr. Hawley has not the means with which to build the new dredge. That nobody can be found to do the work with more vigor than the present contractor. That the city ought to appoint somebody to negotiate the bonds for cash; and the work can be done by the 1st of October, or the closing of fall.

And, finally, that if the U. S. dredge can be obtained to work here, its work can be deducted from Hawley's contract and he will make no objection.

We have thus given a very full abstract of the statements made by Mr Kilbourn on behalf of the contractor; and we said before, and now repeat, that we see a little glimpse of daylight; for, if the work is so nearly done as would appear by the above figures, and only another dredge is necessary, why, we can, by asking for it, get the U. S. dredge, as is stated by Col. Graham. The truth seems to be that the new dredge is not needed particularly for the carrying out of the Straight Cut contract, for we do not see how more than one dredge at a time can work at the spot. The procuring of the Government boat will, however, do a much needed work in dredging out the harbor at the various shoal places, to which the present dredge devotes much attention when it ought to be at the Straight Cut.

If the above statements are true, as to the amount of work done and materials ready (and we do not wish to express any doubts of it) we see no reason why the Straight Cut should not be fully completed long before the 1st of Oct. if a sufficient force is put on to carry away the earth as rapidly as the Dredge throws it up. With the force thus employed for the last month, it would take several years to clear the channel; and such dilatoriness cannot be the "vigorous prosecution with all the help necessary" required by the contract. That contract requires Mr. Hawley to commence the work within 20 days of the 9th of May, 1854, and it is to be "vigorously prosecuted with all the help necessary and reasonable to be employed on said work, and to perform in each successive month an amount of work on said contract, equal to the 1-12th part of the first 3 sections," and "said sections 1, 2, & 3, to be fully completed by the 1st day of July 1855."

For this work so done, the city agreed to pay "in bonds of said city, at their par value or face, and payable 20 years from date, with interest at 7 per ct." the sum of $18,900.

We are within a month of the time of completing the work according to the contract.—Why should it not be done? Why does it not move more rapidly? Who is to blame? What connection is there between the Harbor Contract, and the Dredging and Docking Contract, that the former, and much needed work should be delayed for the latter? If the "tools" at hand are not sufficient for the work, is that the fault of the city? When the bids for the work were sent in, was no estimate made for them, or was it expected that, besides the $18,900, the city should furnish a dredge, scow, pile-driver, &c? We trow not.

The Dredging and Docking contract is an enormous affair, if the people did but know,—sufficient to make the fortunes of all concerned in it, and as fat a job as the Capitol at Washington, and we decidedly object to having the poor little Harbor affair, a mere dwarf in comparison build a dredge for the other work, and be delayed for months and years, while the fat slice is being enjoyed. If the contractor has not the means or tools to do his work, let him throw up the contracts, and let them be settled justly, as between man and man, paying him for what he has done, and let others take the work. The Straight Cut can be done, we repeat, and that long before the first of October, if due diligence is used, and the City Authorities ought to see that such diligence is used, and not to allow it to be put off any longer.

Before the Board adjourned, a resolution was offered by Mr. Kilbourn, requesting the Common Council to issue more bonds in advance on the work. This was opposed by Mr. J. W. Medberry, on the ground that the city was already in advance in payment, and that if the Contractor was unable to do the work of his own means, or to find backers, he ought to stand aside and let others undertake the completion of it.—The resolution was laid on the table.

Dr. WEEKS offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the Common Council be requested to take the necessary measures for obtaining the Government dredge and operate the same on the lower section of that river, at the city expense, until the channel shall be sufficiently broad and deep, for the convenient use of the river and the amount of work so executed be deducted from the contract of Mr. Hawley, for which purpose he has signified his assent.

On motion, the Secretary was ordered to communicate the resolution to the Common Council at their meeting on Thursday evening.

On motion, the Board adjourned to Saturday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

THE LATE JUDICIAL ELECTION.—The Waukesha Democrat, in publishing the official result of the late Judicial election, improves the opportunity to endeavor to account for the great change in the popular sentiment of this State, indicated by the vote for Judge Ira April, and the vote for Governor in the fall of 1853. The Democrat insists that the chief cause of Crawford's defeat was, that "his re-election would be claimed as a triumph" for Gov. Barstow and the State Administration, and it thus "points the moral" of this result:

It seems to us that if the defeat of Macy and Hoyt for Congress, and of the democratic candidates for the Legislature last fall, and of Crawford for Judge this spring, does not convince the delegates to the next state convention, what Barstow has so destined to receive in this State, it again put forward for a popular vote, they would not be convinced though one should rise from the dead. Will any of Barstow's friends tell us where he or they can get any votes next fall that Crawford did not get last month? We think that they cannot point to us a locality, but we know we can point them to thousands of voters who supported Crawford, who under no state of the case will vote for Barstow if renominated. We express it as our firm conviction, that Barstow, Gray & Co. would be defeated by three times as great a majority as Crawford. To be forewarned is to be forearmed. A word to the wise is said to be sufficient—will it be so in this State?

FROM OUR AUSTRALIA CORRESPONDENT.

BENDIGO DIGGINGS, COLONY OF VICTORIA, FEBRUARY 3, 1855.

To the Editors of the Sentinel:

When I last wrote from the Maryborough diggings, I was just on the point of starting for Lake Omeo. I and my partner went to Melbourne, where we took our passage on a sailing vessel for Port Albert, distant about 200 miles. We sailed October 27th, but owing to head winds and calms, did not reach the Port until November 3d. When we landed, we found that the distance to the Omeo diggings was 200 miles, instead of 100, as we had supposed. We started the next day on foot, with our blankets, tent, and other things on our backs. We found the road good until we got to the foot of the mountains, about 70 miles from Omeo; these mountains were a low range of the Australian Alps, from three to four thousand feet high.

Toward the latter part of our journey, the only signs of civilization which we saw for many miles was the lonely hut of a shepherd, or the solitary station of the wealthy squatter, who counts his flocks by tens of thousands. After a one hard work in getting over the mountains, we reached the diggings in eleven days from leaving the Port. The diggings, such as they are, are on the Livingston river, and eight or ten miles from what is called Lake Omeo, which is nothing but a large marsh which in winter is overflowed with water. We found about 150 persons at work on the river. The diggings are confined solely to the banks and bed of the river, which is a small stream that in any other country would not be dignified by being called a river. We found that a great many lies had been told about the place. Gold could be found almost anywhere on the river, but not in sufficient quantities to pay for working. We however set to work determined to give it a good trial. The "long tom" and "sluice" was used altogether for working, as a tub and cradle is of no use in river diggings. After a month's work, not having made enough to clear expenses, we sold, or rather gave away, our tools, packed up our traps and started overland for the Ovens about 180 miles, and seventy of this over the mountains, where there was not even a shepherd's hut. The only good thing which we found in that part of the country was good water, of which there was an abundance, pure and cold as ice. Every where we found fine running streams, which have their source in the snowy mountains, the loftier peaks of which we could see in the distance. We reached the Ovens without any difficulty, but found things so dull there that we determined to come on here, 200 miles farther.

It is about sixteen months since I was first here, and a most wonderful change has taken place on some parts of the Bendigo in that time. The town of Sandhurst (the principal township on this gold field) at that time was merely a collection of canvas tents; it can now boast of its numerous streets crowded with fine hotels and stores of every description; a semi-weekly paper, an established theatre, and churches of every denomination, and it promises to become one of the largest inland towns of Victoria.

The Bendigo diggings are very extensive, covering a space about twelve miles long and three or four miles in width. With the exception of Ballarat it is the most important gold field of the Colony. Steam machinery is getting to be extensively introduced here for the purpose of working the auriferous quartz veins, of which there are a great many on this gold field.

There is a large population on these diggings. We are at present camped near a new flat lately opened, where we have taken a claim. The sinking is rather deep—between sixty and seventy feet. We bottomed our hole yesterday and could see a little gold,—we intend to drive it in hopes it will be better. Some parties near us are doing very well, getting as much as sixteen ounces to the load—(a load of earth is generally about 45 buckets.)

Long before you receive this you will have heard of the serious disturbances which have taken place on the Ballarat diggings between the government and the diggers. As you have perhaps heard several versions of the affair, I will very briefly give you the particulars which may be depended on as facts. The first difficulty occurred in October last. A digger by the name of Scobie was found dead one morning near the Eureka hotel. The diggers in the neighborhood suspected he had been murdered, and thought they had good reasons for thinking that Bently the landlord of the hotel, was the murderer. He was brought before the magistrates of the district and an investigation held, but they considering that there was not sufficient evidence against the prisoner, discharged him. The diggers were very indignant at the result of the investigation, and the next day a large body of them, numbering two or three thousand, proceeded to Bently's house and demanded that he should give himself up into their hands. He however, managed to escape, but the diggers set fire to the house, which was burnt down with all its contents. The property consumed was valued at twenty thousand dollars. The Magistrates were soon on the spot—the riot act read, and the police endeavored to disperse the rioters and took several of the ringleaders prisoners. The intelligence soon reached Melbourne, and the Governor sent up a large number of soldiers, fearing that another outbreak might take place. The presence of the soldiers irritated the diggers very much. The ringleaders of the riot who were taken prisoners were committed for trial. A large meeting was then held at Ballarat, and a deputation appointed to wait upon the Governor and demand the release of the prisoners. Of course such a demand met with a direct refusal. The deputation returned and gave an account of their interview with the Governor.

Another large meeting was then held, when resolutions were passed to the effect that as the governor had refused to grant their demand, they would no longer submit to the authorities, but would resist the collection of the license fee by every means and acknowledge no law but their own. At this meeting, as if in defiance of the government, several hundred of the diggers burnt their gold licenses, and a number of the more wild and headstrong ones enrolled themselves into a military company, appointed their leaders and armed themselves for the purpose of resisting the government, if necessary, to the point of the bayonet. They also erected a large stockade made of slabs in which they regularly met to exercise and drill. It was feared by the officials that the rebels intended to attack the government offices and on Sunday morning, December 3d, about 4 o'clock, a large body of soldiers and troopers (about 400) were marched to the stockade which at this time was occupied by about 700 of the insurgents. It was the intention of the commander of the military to order them to surrender and give up their arms, but the diggers did not give them time to do this, for they no sooner got within range than the diggers fired upon them from the stockade; of course a general battle was the consequence, in which about 30 of the diggers were killed, many more wounded and several taken prisoners. The loss on the other side was not so great, but I do not recollect the exact number of the soldiers killed.

As may be supposed these events caused the greatest excitement. The district of Ballarat was under martial law for several days, but owing to the prompt measures taken by the government peace was restored, and everything has since been quiet. The rebels who were taken prisoners were committed for trial, on the charge of high treason—their trial comes on in a few days, and I shall probably not close this until the result is known. The prisoners who were taken at the burning of the hotel, were tried last week and acquitted.

I forgot to state that Bently, the suspected murderer, was arrested soon after the burning of the hotel, on a charge of murder. He was tried, and the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter—he was sentenced to three years hard labor on the roads. It is reported that the magistrates, or at least one of them, before whom Bently was first brought, was a partner in the Hotel, which is said to be the reason why he was discharged. I cannot say whether there is any truth in this report or not, at any rate there seems to have been something of the kind at work. The magistrates, I believe, have since been dismissed.

It must not be supposed that this affair of Bently's was the sole cause of the collision between the diggers and the military. Under the late Latrobian administration, the diggers and the government were always at variance—this arose in a great measure not from any great objection to the laws which were passed for the management of the gold fields, but was brought about by the mal-administration of those laws; by the set of worthless incapables who were too often placed in office. That there has been gross mismanagement on all the diggings by the officials, no one denies, not even the Executive and Governor, but there has been nothing to warrant a resort to physical force for a redress of the grievances of which the diggers complain.

On the arrival of Sir. Charles Hotham as Governor of the Colony, every one looked to him as the man who was to set every thing right. Far too much was expected of him. He promised to do everything that lay in his power, for the welfare of the colony and the people. But because he has not yet effected all the reforms that are needed, there are some persons here who denounce him as the author of all the mischief that has occurred. But the colonists (for it was not the colonists who were engaged in the Ballarat affair) and the majority of the diggers believe that he will conduct his administration in accordance with those principles which he enunciated on his arrival; when he said that in conducting his administration he would endeavor to do his duty to the people of the colony—that he would turn neither to the right nor the left; and would conduct his administration on the principle that "all power springs from the people." I believe he is disposed to do justice to all, so far as lies in his power, but we cannot expect any great change in political affairs until the inauguration of the new constitution, which, when fairly at work, will banish class legislation from the land and give justice to all.

No one expects that the prisoners now awaiting trial in Melbourne will be found guilty of high treason. Some even feel confident that they will be acquitted altogether, but it is more probable that they will be found guilty of some lesser crime, but to acquit them altogether it is thought would not be politic. Some of them are undoubtedly to be pitied as the majority of those engaged in the affair were led on by a few evil designing men, friends neither of the diggers or the government.

[TO BE CONCLUDED TO-MORROW.]

Roman Catholic Address.

The following is the closing sentence of the address of the Roman Catholic Bishops at the Conference recently held in Baltimore:

Beloved Brethren of the Laity, we embrace you all with paternal affection, and entreat you to walk circumspectly, for the days are evil.—You know what manner of precepts we have given you in the name of the Lord Jesus: for this is the will of God, your sanctification. Be peaceful, sober, just and faithful in the performance of all duties toward all mankind. Practice patience, forbearance, charity toward all. In the exercise of your rights as free citizens, remember your responsibility to God and act as freemen, but not as having liberty as a cloak for malice, but as the servants of God. Respect and obey the constituted authorities—for all power is from God, and they that resist, resist the ordinance of God and purchase for themselves damnation.

To the General and State Governments you owe allegiance in all that regards the civil order; the authorities of the church challenge your obedience in the things of salvation. We have no need of pressing this distinction, which you fully understand and constantly observe. You know that we have uniformly taught you, both publicly and privately, to perform all the duties of good citizens, and have never made, even to the highest ecclesiastical authority, any engagements inconsistent with the duties we owe to the country and its laws. On every opportune occasion we have avowed these principles, and even in our communications to the late Pontiff we rejected as a calumny the imputation that we were in civil matters subject to his authority. Be not disturbed at the misstatements of our tenets which are daily made, or at the effort to deprive us of our civil rights and of the confidence and esteem of our fellow-citizens.

Formidable as is the combination for this purpose, we do not despair that the justice and good sense of the nation will soon discover the groundless character of the suspicion thrown upon the fidelity of Catholics, whose religion teaches them to respect and maintain the established order of society, under whatsoever form of government they may be placed. Brethren, let the light of your example shine before men that they may see your good work and glorify your Father who is in heaven. Pray for the conversion and salvation of all men, for this is the will of God, who desires that all men may be saved and may come to the knowledge of the truth.

DEATH OF DR. DRAPER AT SEBASTOPOL.—The Providence Journal announces the death of Dr. Isaac Draper, the American surgeon in the Russian service, whose interesting letters in the paper above named have been extensively copied in the English papers. The Journal says:—He died at Sebastopol, on the 20th of March, of typhus fever, after an illness of four weeks. He received every attention in his illness, and his funeral was attended with all the marks of official respect. The information came by a letter written at the request of his friend, Dr. Turnispeed, of South Carolina, who was himself sick at the time. Dr. Draper was the son of Isaac Draper, Esq. of South Attleboro'. He was 32 years of age, and graduated at Brown University in the class of 1844. He was a man of fine talents and education, improved by travel and study abroad.

LAUNCH OF THE SCHOONER NORTH STAR.—On Saturday afternoon last the North Star, a large beautifully modelled full rigged Schooner, was launched from the shipyard near 8th Street, in the presence of an unusually large audience. This, with the exception of the Mary Stockton, is the largest vessel ever built in Manitowoc. Her length from stem to stern is 107 feet 3 inches—breadth of beam 24 feet 9½ inches—and she registers 208 47-95ths tons. She was built by E. Sorenson, and is adapted in model and strength to any trade requiring capacity and speed. She belongs to M. F. VanVleck, and if the craft partakes in anywise of the go-ahead-spirit of her owner, it is safe to say she will prove to be a clipper. She is commanded by Capt. Henry Edwards, who was at the laying the "corner stone" of Manitowoc, and has grown up in the lake service. A "free wind" to the "North Star."—[Manitowoc Herald.

THE CROPS—Prospects.—Farmers have nothing very encouraging, of late, to say about their crops. We have enquired of many, within a few days, as to the prospects—all coinciding in the opinion that unless we have large quantities of rain within a short time the coming harvest will be a very light one. A slight rain fell on Monday night, but not moistening the ground of sufficient depth to be of lasting benefit. Corn, they say, looks very poorly, and will not amount to anything without heavy showers of rain. We hear of some farmers, who have both wheat and corn in store, and will not dispose of either until the prospect brightens in favor of heavy yields the coming fall.—[Potosi Republican.

RAILROAD PROGRESSING.—The Illinois and Wisconsin Railroad was finished to Hartman's (three miles west of of Crystal lake,) on yesterday, and the passenger rail will come on running through that point within a few days. It is also expected to finish the road to Woodstock by the 15th June, and then two passenger trains will be run each way daily.

The Fox River Valley Railroad was finished up to Crystal Lake yesterday, and a regular train will run from this city to that point as early as the first of next week.—The track will be continued and finished to McHenry during the coming month, and we are assured it will be to the State line early in August.—[Chicago Tribune.

A NEW CHURCH PARISH.—A new Episcopal Parish was organized at Two Rivers, on Monday last by the Rev. M Hoyt, under the title of St. Paul's Church. Wm. Aldrich was chosen Senior Warden, and J N Fisher Junior Warden, L S House, Jas. Teele and ——McDonald were chosen Vestrymen. L S House, Secretary of the Vestry, Jas. Teele Treasurer. The Rev. Mr. Hoyt is holding church services at Two Rivers once in two weeks, and sufficient interest is already indicated to warrant the hope that a church building will be erected there at no very distant day.—[Manitowoc Herald.

CITY MATTERS.

CIRCUIT COURT—May 30.

JUDGE HUBBELL, PRESIDING.

In the Circuit Court yesterday morning, GEO BRYANT was sentenced to the state prison for one year.

In the case of John Goodman, convicted of assault with intent to kill, application was made for a new trial, and the counsel was granted until Friday morning, to furnish evidence, &c., and at that time to argue the motion.

In the afternoon, the chancery cases came up, many of them of old standing—the records looking rusty.

POLICE COURT—May 29th.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, ESQ., POLICE JUSTICE.

LARCENY IN A SHOP.—Emily F. Langdon was brought down by deputy sheriff Wasson, and examined on a charge of stealing from the shop of Mrs. Wheeler, on Wisconsin street, about two weeks since, fourteen yards of silk and twenty-four yards berage, of the value of $38. The woman had a child about one year old—was the wife of a sailor, and had just come here when she committed the act. The evidence was plain as to the act, and she was committed for trial in default of the lowest bail the Court could receive—which was $200.

We have no desire in any way to shield the guilty, or to write one word calculated by any construction to prevent the full execution of justice; but as we looked upon that unfortunate young mother, guilty as she is of theft, and that in a country where all can get an honest living who desire it, we felt, we assert, that there is no justice or humanity in shutting up for the next three months before her trial, in our jail, that woman and her infant child, to breathe its tainted atmosphere. It would have been an act of mercy to that mother and child to have sent them to the State Prison, for there they would have pure air to breathe. In that pandemonium, standing in the heart of the wealth of this city, a streak of pure atmosphere would be as strange as a minister's visit.

LARCENY IN A WAREHOUSE.—John Foster was brought down from jail by officer Parsons, charged with having stolen from the warehouse of E. L. Button, a coat of the value of six dollars.—The defendant waived an examination, intimating that he should in all probability be committed anyhow. The bail was fixed at $300, in default of which he was committed back to jail till the next term of the Circuit Court in September. Foster is an old thief, and has been in the State Prison, according to his own showing, seventeen years of his life. On a trial for theft at the last term of the Circuit Court he was acquitted.

A man named John Donnegan was taken to jail on a charge of threatening to set fire to the barn of Michael Burke, the grader. He was arrested by constable Ryan, and a warrant afterwards issued against him. He will be examined this morning.

New Advertisements.

The card of Messrs. CASEY, FOOTE & GORDON will attract attention, and deserves it. Just now, one of the greatest needs of our city is a reasonable multiplication of wholesale firms, in proportion to the rapid development of the country. Competition is the life of business, and all will be bettered by such an increase of wholesale houses. The firm above named have taken one of the handsome new stores in the U. S. Block, and will fill it with a very extensive stock.

MACK BROTHERS are on hand again with a very full statement of the attractions of their establishment. Their store is the handsomest in the city, and with a stock of goods to match, it is not at all wonderful that customers flock together there.

F. C. MENDE invites attention to newly received PIANOS.

A. F. CLARKE, Real Estate Agent, furnishes some excellent opportunities for investments, for particulars of which, see his advertisements.

Information is wanted of CATHARINE CASEY.

CHAPMAN has just published (and we have before us now) a very handsome sectional Map of the Counties of Milwaukee, Waukesha, Racine, Kenosha, and part of Walworth, showing the streams, lakes, marshes, roads, &c. It will doubtless have a large sale.

WILSON has a list of new books, just received from the publish rs.

ARNOLD, also gives a new list of books.

HOUGHTON & Co., merchants on the West side of the river, invite the attention of our readers to their extensive stock of goods, and we willingly say a good word for a good store, and fair dealers like the proprietors.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—We remind our readers that Mr. COLLINS, who sings an Irish song tells an Irish story and plays an Irish character better than anybody else can, is to give his promised entertainment at Young's Hall this evening.—We are quite safe in promising all who attend a very pleasant evening. See his advertisement.

PROMENADE CONCERTS.—There was capital music and a fair attendance, considering the weather, at the Promenade Concert last evening. The series will be held regularly, and they are likely to be very popular.

MRS. MACREADY.—We understand that Mrs. Macready is to give one of her Dramatic and Musical Entertainments this evening at Racine, and that she will be here early next week. Our citizens have a rare treat in prospect. We shall be able to name the day soon.

FOR BUFFALO.—The propeller Alleghany will leave for Buffalo this morning, calling at all the intermediate ports. For passage apply to J. SHEPPARD, three doors from American Express Co's. office, on Huron Street.

FIGHTING IN THE STREET.—A man named George Kessen was arrested yesterday afternoon for fighting in the street. He was taken to jail by officer Meyer.

RAIN AT LAST—THE CROPS.—The long wished-for rain came at last, yesterday, in gentle showers, which revived the parched earth and thirsting vegetation. We hope that the rain visited the interior, as well as the Lake Shore, for the earth needs a thorough soaking. We are glad to learn, however, that the crops have thus far stood the drought amazingly well, tho' a much longer continuance of it would be destructive to the farmers' hopes.

ORPHAN ASYLUM FESTIVAL.—The Fair and Festival for the benefit of St. Aemilianus Orphan Asylum attracted large crowds to Young's Hall, and was altogether successful. The net proceeds were not far from $1200.

PUTNAM FOR JUNE.—We have from WILSON a copy of Putnam's Magazine for June, a capital number, full of interesting articles, "one of the best of which is 'Living in the Country,'" by the author of "Cosas de Espagna."

WILSON also has HARPER for June.

FUEL FOR CHICAGO.—The Wayne Co. (N. Y.) Whig says that a vessel is loading at Sodus Bay, Lake Ontario, with fire wood for Chicago. The wood costs $2.25 per cord, on board, and sells for at least $5,00; leaving the vessel a profit of $2 50 or more, instead of having to come up the Lakes in ballast.

DESTRUCTION OF A RAILROAD BRIDGE BY FIRE, —OSS $50,000.—The extensive Railroad bridge at Port Edward, Washington Co., N. Y., belonging to the Saratoga and Washington Railroad Company, was entirely destroyed by fire on Friday last. It is supposed to have been set on fire by the sparks from a locomotive. The bridge cost the Company $50,000, and it is thought that it was not insured.

I HAD.—We are sorry to learn that two of the four young men lately poisoned at Juneau (of which an account will be found in another column) are dead.—[Watertown Times.

PROSPECTIVE CORN EXPORT.—The Baltimore American reckons that, at no distant period, this country will be exporting annually, one hundred and fifty millions of bushels of Indian corn, which would bring into the United States $100,000,000, and prove a greater source of substantial wealth to us than the gold mines in California.

THE CENSUS.—A paragraph in the Wisconsin of yesterday, advising people to prepare memoranda for the census takers, whose work commences to-morrow, may give unnecessary troubles. The law in this state requires a mere enumeration, spaceifying the deaf and dumb, blind, insane and colored persons.

Our Absence—Progress of Population—Business—Good Times.

After the luxuries and pleasures of a visit some sixty or seventy miles northward and an absence of some days, we are once more at home—wiser and profited in pocket considerably. We found the progress of population, building, plowing, fencing and tent-pitching very far beyond our calculation. The country north, north-east and north-west of us, will soon be, if it is not already, ahead of any other section of south-western Wisconsin—so far as population and briskness are concerned. The flow of population is absolutely enormous—incredible, and the new comers are evidently well to do in respect to horses, cattle and farm implements. You can see around most every shanty the living and real signs of prosperity and competency. The presumption is, they are none the less supplied with money; also, that they are industrious, thrifty and enterprising. We see none of the signs of loaferism among the new emigrants, and among the entire lot we have seen but two or three of that class who aim to live by their wits without any capital to go on.

The country ought to be pleased with the quality as well as the quantity of people moving in, and every clever aid ought to be offered and rendered cheerfully to help them along; particular attention ought to be given to those who are poor and in want of work.

The consumption of provisions and merchandise by this new mass of people will excel all preparation made by farmer and merchants and may cause serious wants and troubles. Not a bushel of grain ought to leave the county.—[Grant Co. Herald, May 29.

HOWARD FOUNDRY.—We dropped in at the Howard Foundry a few days since, and was pleased to see everything in and about it looking as busy as a bee-hive. Besides the double engine which they are building for Mr. Fisk's new boat, and one that they are re-building for the Improvement Company's steam tug, which will be out next month, they have a great rush of jobbing, which is forcing their machinery to its utmost capacity.—[Fort Howard Era.

☞ The steamer Peytona met with an accident yesterday afternoon when about three miles out on her way to Fond du Lac. Some part of her machinery gave way, disabling her in such a manner that she was obliged to come to an anchor and make signals for assistance. The steamer Barlow immediately got up steam, went out and towed her back to her dock. The damage to her machinery is but trifling, and will be repaired, so as to enable her to resume her regular trips on Monday.—[Oshkosh Courier.

OVERLAND IMMIGRATION.—Five teams drawing covered wagons, containing eight families from the East, arrived in our village on the southern road yesterday. They are to locate in the Valley of the Willow River. This party brought with them a large drove of cattle, including a number of milch cows. Another and larger party, destined for the same neighborhood, will be here in a short time.—[Hudson North Star, 23d inst.

☞ A farmer near Wingville, not a reader of any newspaper, complained to us last week, that he was offered 40 cents a bushel for his oats at home, but that he had hauled them to Galena for a higher price. He sold his load in Galena for 35 cents a bushel, owing to never more be without a paper from which he could learn where the highest prices are paid!—[Grant Co. Herald.

☞ The steamer M. L. Martin has been repaired and is now ready for service. She is to run down the Bay as far as Oconto. She is a good boat and well conducted.—[Fort Howard Era.

VOLUME XI. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Thursday Morning, May 31.

FROM OUR NEW YORK CORRESPONDENT.

New York, May 24, 1855.

Our spring advances coldly, but not therefore injuriously, for the cool weather, without frost, is not unfavorable to the crops that first mature and on which the greatest reliance is placed—hay, oats, potatoes, and wheat; and at the present almost famine prices, even the dwellers in cities occupy their thoughts not a little with the weather and all other elements that may affect, favorably or otherwise, the supply of food in the future. Hereabouts, the promise in everything is abundant—fruits and grain—except as to Indian corn, which is not yet up, or even generally planted. But until new supplies do arrive, we are forced to pay enormously for everything we eat, save only fish—of which, shad especially, the run this year is abundant beyond the ordinary rate, a providential compensation—why not?—for deficiencies elsewhere and in other things.

Our city is busy as usual at this season, and prosperous; there are not, indeed, as many new enterprises—especially in building—as in former years, but there is substantial progress and ease, notwithstanding the continued export of coin.—A more settled feeling exists that our foreign relations are not likely to be disturbed, and that of itself gives security and animation to industry: for it is certain that, in the earlier part of the year, a good deal more uneasiness prevailed among commercial men about the projects of the Administration against Cuba and Spain than was apparent on the surface. Happily, the complete exposure, now so thoroughly accomplished by the late letter of Mr Pizzy, the Secretary of Legation at Madrid, of the most un-American ways and conduct and character of the French diplomat sent by Mr. Pierce to represent America in Spain—has opened all eyes to the dangerous pass in which we were placed, and will effectually put a stop to any more bullying on the part of the Administration, or successful filibustering on the part of the reckless adventurers who have kept the public in trouble so long already. I hope you will publish Mr. Perry's letter. The people of the whole nation should be grateful to him for his manly courage in doing his duty, and telling the truth. This will probably be his only reward for it will greatly differ from all the antecedents of Mr. Pierce's administration if this truly patriotic expose by Mr Perry of the abuse of power and station and opportunity by Mr Soulé do not lead to the recall of the honest functionary, and to his degradation, so far as such an administration can degrade such a man.

The Virginia election, which takes place today, is much talked of, and much seems expected of it in the way of political or rather party effect and indifference, according as it shall eventuate. I do not very well understand why; for on the only question which now seems to me of any moment—upon the only live issue in our politics—Freedom versus Slavery—there is no difference in Virginia. All men, of all parties there, go for Slavery now and forever; and therefore to us of the Free States, and of the party of Freedom now and forever, it seems a matter of entire indifference who the Wise or Flournoy triumph at the polls, for the black flag covers both hosts and both leaders. As to the so called "American" issue, supposed to be represented by Mr. Flournoy, it lacks the foundation stone of all true Americanism—equality of races and of rights; for the creed of Mr. Flournoy's supporters is proscriptive of race and of creeds—the proscription of white freemen, if not born on the soil and of black men, wherever born. This is not American, however. Virginian it may be.

For myself, therefore, I look with absolute indifference upon the result, for it is the triumph in one case, of the old effete, corrupt, sham democracy, or, in the other, of this new un-American party; and with neither have I the least sympathy. The only good of any kind I can foresee from the contest is the breaking down of the old machinery and old leaders in Virginia, who have so long bound that great state in leading strings, and thwarted its growth, and dwarfed its influence, and stained its antient honors, by their narrow, selfish, exclusive, and corrupt policy.

In a day or two more we must have later tidings from the Crimea, with little change, I apprehend from the last, beyond the assurance that every day of unsuccessful bombardment adds to the conclusion that the besiegers, so-called, and not the besieged, are to be the vanquished party at last. A hope of peace still existed in the rumored purpose of Prussia to mediate, but it seems to me contrary to all reason and experience to assume that the Russian Emperor, knowing that his enemies are in a trap from which they cannot escape, and that the coming heats of summer will fight on his side in the Golgotha where his encamped the allied forces as did the frosts and storms of winter—should listen in earnest to any overtures of peace, whether from Prussia, or Austria, or both. His mind is made up, I think, for victory, and a free egress to the Mediterranean, and with nothing short of that will he rest satisfied.

The Mails—A Pleasant Prospect:

We have made some inquiry as to the prospect before us, and this is the result—unofficial, but still pretty near the truth, we think.

The mail contract is to bring the mail once a day, leaving Chicago in the morning, and arriving here in the afternoon. The Lake Shore R. R. Co. has bought off, or hired off, the boats, and there is now no day boat either way. Well—one would naturally suppose that the rail road company takes the mails, at once, and brings them here, so as to gain several hours time. Verdant public! the R. R. Company does no such thing, but declines to carry the mail by cars at all, unless at rates which it considers just, but the Government exorbitant; and, allowing the mail to live over in Chicago all day, brings it by the night boat thus making a delay of 24 hours at that city. Of course the Postmaster here puts on the fine every day, and it seems a question of endurance between the Department and the Company the public meanwhile being scandalously mused by somebody.

To our mind it seems as if the Lake Shore R. R. Co., would make money by carrying the mails twice a day gratis, rather than by standing out, when they have the whole game in their hands, cum dotum which, even if undeserved, will nevertheless be certain to come upon it. Think of it, gentlemen!

GREAT WESTERN R. R. STEAMER.—The steamers belonging to the Great Western Railway are the splendid steamers America, Capt. Masson, and Canada, Capt. Willoughby. These vessels have been designed, built and furnished under the superintendence of Capt. Masson, are of large dimensions, being 300 feet long, with engines of great power. They are to run from Hamilton to Oswego, touching at Toronto, leaving Hamilton on the arrival of the Western train in the afternoon and reaching Oswego in abundant time for the New York train, reaching that city early in the evening.

LAKE SHORE RAIL ROAD.—The travel on this road increases rapidly. The Chicago Press of Wednesday says that the morning train from Milwaukee was so crowded that many passengers had to stand up in the cars.

FREIGHTS BY THE COLLINGWOOD ROUTE.—The freight shipped from Chicago, per Key Stone State, on her last trip down, reached New York in twelve days. The usual time for freight by the Collingwood route is as follows:—to Oswego, five days, to Ogdensburgh six days, to Montreal seven days, and to New York and Boston, 12 days.

Board of Trade Meeting—The Harbor Business.

Things are decidedly "working" in relation to the Straight Cut, and we are beginning to get where we can see a little glimpse of daylight.—At the meeting of the Board of Trade on Tuesday evening, Ex-Mayor Kilbourn, on behalf of Capt. Hawley, the contractor, occupied the whole evening with a speech, so long that no time remained for any action by the Board, or for us to write out the notes taken thereof. We give now a condensed summary of the statements made by Mr. Kilbourn.

He stated that the dredging through to the lake is half done, that four cribs are framed, ready for sinking, and which will make 400 feet of pier and that they will be sunk in three weeks. That 58,000 ft. of timber has been purchased and delivered on the works, 12,000 ft framed, and that there are 50,000 ft. at Oak Creek and 30,000 ft. at Two Rivers. That all the timber is got out, nearly half of it delivered here, and the remainder will be delivered as fast as it is needed. That the contractor is as conscious of the need of a new dredge as are those who write newspaper paragraphs." That 1000 cords of stone are procured for the piers. That the amount of the contractor's expenditure on the work is $35,000, while the figures of his contract for the first three sections are $48,900.

That he has done dredging in the river to the amount of $3000, and has received $10,000 on that contract. That he has paid $4000 in discount and interest on the bonds already received. That an outlay of $15,786 for pile driver, scows, &c. &c., was necessary in order to commence the work. When the work is completed, the contractor would be in debt, but would have those necessary "implements," with which to go on with other work,

That $8000, or $10,000 must be had for the purchase of a new dredge, as the one in use is not sufficient to complete the contract in time; and that Mr. Hawley has not the means with which to build the new dredge. That nobody can be found to do the work with more vigor than the present contractor. That the city ought to appoint somebody to negotiate the bonds for cash; and the work can be done by the 1st of October, or the closing of fall.

And, finally, that if the U. S. dredge can be obtained to work here, its work can be deducted from Hawley's contract and he will make no objection.

We have thus given a very full abstract of the statements made by Mr Kilbourn on behalf of the contractor; and we said before, and now repeat, that we see a little glimpse of daylight; for, if the work is so nearly done as would appear by the above figures, and only another dredge is necessary, why, we can, by asking for it, get the U. S. dredge, as is stated by Col. Graham. The truth seems to be that the new dredge is not needed particularly for the carrying out of the Straight Cut contract, for we do not see how more than one dredge at a time can work at the spot. The procuring of the Government boat will, however, do a much needed work in dredging out the harbor at the various shoal places, to which the present dredge devotes much attention when it ought to be at the Straight Cut.

If the above statements are true, as to the amount of work done, and materials ready (and we do not wish to express any doubts of it) we see no reason why the Straight Cut should not be fully completed long before the 1st of Oct. if a sufficient force is put on to carry away the earth as rapidly as the dredge throws it up. With the force thus employed for the last month, it would take several years to clear the channel; and such dilatoriness cannot be the "vigorous prosecution, with all the help necessary" required by the contract. That contract requires Mr. Hawley to commence the work within 20 days of the 9th of May, 1854, and it is to be "vigorously prosecuted with all the help necessary and reasonable to be employed on said work, and to perform in each successive month an amount of work on said contract, equal to the 1-12th part of the first 3 sections," and "said sections 1, 2, & 3, to be fully completed by the 1st day of July 1855."

For this work, so done, the city agreed to pay "in bonds of said city, at their par value or face, and payable 20 years from date, with interest at 7 per ct." the sum of $18,900.

We are within a month of the time of completing the work, according to the contract.—Why should it not be done? Why does it not move more rapidly? Who is to blame? What connection is there between the Harbor Contract, and the Dredging and Docking Contract, that the former, and much needed work should be delayed for the latter? If the "tools" at hand are not sufficient for the work, is that the fault of the city? When the bids for the work were sent in, was no estimate made for them, or was it expected that, besides the $18,900, the city should furnish a dredge, scow, pile-driver, &c? We trow not.

The Dredging and Docking contract is an enormous affair, if the people did but know,—sufficient to make the fortunes of all concerned in it, and as fat a job as the Capitol at Washington, and we decidedly object to having the poor little Harbor affair, a mere dwarf in comparison build a dredge for the other work, and be delayed for months and years, while the fat slice is being enjoyed. If the contractor has not the means or tools to do his work, let him throw up the contracts, and let them be settled justly, as between man and man, paying him for what he has done, and let others take the work. The Straight Cut can be done, we repeat, and that long before the first of October, if due diligence is used, and the City Authorities ought to see that such diligence is used, and not to allow it to be put off any longer.

Before the Board adjourned, a resolution was offered by Mr. Kilbourn, requesting the Common Council to issue more bonds in advance on the work. This was opposed by Mr. J. W. Medberry, on the ground that the city was already in advance in payment, and that if the Contractor was unable to do the work of his own means, or to find backers, he ought to stand aside, and let others undertake the completion of it.—The resolution was laid on the table.

Dr. WEEKS offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the Common Council be requested to take the necessary measures for obtaining the Government dredge and operate the same on the lower section of the river, at the city expense, until the channel shall be sufficiently broad and deep, for the convenient use of the river and the amount of work so executed be deducted from the contract of Mr. Hawley, for which purpose he has signified his assent.

On motion, the Secretary was ordered to communicate the resolution to the Common Council at their meeting on Thursday evening.

On motion, the Board adjourned to Saturday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

THE LATE JUDICIAL ELECTION.—The Waukesha Democrat, in publishing the official result of the late Judicial election, improves the opportunity to endeavor to account for the great change in the popular sentiment of this State, indicated by the vote for Judge last April, and the vote for Governor in the fall of 1853. The Democrat insists that the chief cause of Crawford's defeat was, that "his re-election would be claimed as a triumph" for Gov. Barstow and the State Administration, and it thus "points the moral" of this result:

It seems to us, that if the defeat of Macy and Hoyt for Congress, and of the democratic candidates for the Legislature last fall, and of Crawford for Judge this spring, does not convince the delegates to the next state convention, what Barstowism is destined to receive in this State, if again put forward for a popular vote, they would not be convinced though one should rise from the dead. Will any of Barstow's friends tell us where he or they can get any votes next fall that Crawford did not get last month? We think that they cannot point to us a locality, but we know we can point them to thousands of voters who supported Crawford, who under no state of the case will vote for Barstow if renominated. We express it as our firm conviction, that Barstow, Gray & Co. would be defeated by three times as great a majority as Crawford. To be forewarned is to be forearmed. A word to the wise is said to be sufficient—will it be so in this State?

FROM OUR AUSTRALIA CORRESPONDENT.

BENDIGO DIGGINGS, COLONY OF VICTORIA, FEBRUARY 3, 1855.

To the Editors of the Sentinel:

When I last wrote from the Maryborough diggings, I was just on the point of starting for Lake Omeo. I and my partner went to Melbourne, where we took our passage on a sailing vessel for Port Albert, distant about 200 miles. We sailed October 27th, but owing to head winds and calms, did not reach the Port until November 3d. When we landed, we found that the distance to the Omeo diggings was 200 miles, instead of 180, as we had supposed. We started the next day on foot, with our blankets, tent, and other things on our backs. We found the road good until we got to the foot of the mountains, about 70 miles from Omeo; these mountains were a low range of the Australian Alps, from three to four thousand feet high.

Toward the latter part of our journey, the only signs of civilization which we saw for many miles was the lonely hut of a shepherd, or the solitary station of the wealthy squatter, who counts his flocks by tens of thousands. After some hard work in getting over the mountains, we reached the diggings in eleven days from leaving the Port. The diggings, such as they are, are on the Livingston river, and eight or ten miles from what is called Lake Omeo, which is nothing but a large marsh which in winter is overflowed with water. We found about 150 persons at work on the river. The diggings are confined solely to the banks and bed of the river, which is a small stream that in any other country would not be dignified by being called a river. We found that a great many lies had been told about the place. Gold could be found almost anywhere on the river, but not in sufficient quantities to pay for working. We however set to work determined to give it a good trial. The "long tom" and "sluice" was used altogether for working, as a tub and cradle is of no use in river diggings. After a month's work, not having made enough to clear expenses, we sold, or rather gave away, our tools, packed up our traps and started overland for the Ovens about 180 miles, and seventy of this over the mountains, where there was not even a shepherd's hut. The only good thing which we found in that part of the country was good water, of which there was an abundance, pure and cold as ice. Every where we found fine running streams, which have their source in the snowy mountains, the loftier peaks of which we could see in the distance. We reached the Ovens without any difficulty, but found things so dull there that we determined to come on here, 200 miles farther.

It is about sixteen months since I was first here, and a most wonderful change has taken place on some parts of the Bendigo in that time. The town of Sandhurst (the principal township on this gold field) is that time was merely a collection of canvas tents; it can now boast of its numerous streets crowded with fine hotels and stores of every description; a semi-weekly paper, an established theatre, and churches of every denomination, and it promises to become one of the largest inland towns of Victoria.

The Bendigo diggings are very extensive, covering a space about twelve miles long and three or four miles in width. With the exception of Ballarat it is the most important gold field of the Colony. Steam machinery is getting to be extensively introduced here for the purpose of working the auriferous quartz veins, of which there are a great many on this gold field.

There is a large population on these diggings. We are at present camped near a new flat lately opened, where we have taken a claim. The sinking is rather deep—between sixty and seventy feet. We bottomed our hole yesterday and could see a little gold,—we intend to drive it in hopes it will be better. Some parties near us are doing very well, getting as much as sixteen ounces to the load—(a load of earth is generally about 45 buckets.)

Long before you receive this you will have heard of the serious disturbances which have taken place on the Ballarat diggings between the government and the diggers. As you have perhaps heard several versions of the affair, I will very briefly give you the particulars which may be depended on as facts. The first difficulty occurred in October last. A digger by the name of Scobie was found dead one morning near the Eureka hotel. The diggers in the neighborhood suspected he had been murdered, and thought they had good reasons for thinking that Bently the landlord of the hotel, was the murderer. He was brought before the magistrates of the district and an investigation held, but they considering that there was not sufficient evidence against the prisoner, discharged him. The diggers were very indignant at the result of the investigation, and the next day a large body of them, numbering two or three thousand, proceeded to Bently's house and demanded that he should give himself up into their hands. He however, managed to escape, but the diggers set fire to the house which was burnt down with all its contents. The property consumed was valued at twenty thousand dollars. The Magistrates were soon on the spot—the riot act read, and the police endeavored to disperse the rioters and took several of the ringleaders prisoners. The intelligence soon reached Melbourne, and the Governor sent up a large number of soldiers, fearing that another outbreak might take place. The presence of the soldiers irritated the diggers very much. The ringleaders of the riot who were taken prisoners were committed for trial. A large meeting was then held at Ballarat, and a deputation appointed to wait upon the Governor and demand the release of the prisoners. Of course such a demand met with a direct refusal. The deputation returned and gave an account of their interview with the Governor.

Another large meeting was then held, when resolutions were passed to the effect that as the governor had refused to grant their demand, they would no longer submit to the authorities, but would resist the collection of the license fee by every means and acknowledge no law but their own. At this meeting, as if in defiance of the government, several hundred of the diggers burnt their gold licenses, and a number of the more violent and headstrong ones enrolled themselves into a military company, appointed their leaders and armed themselves for the purpose of resisting the government, if necessary, to the point of the bayonet. They also erected a large stockade made of slabs in which they regularly met to exercise and drill. It was feared by the officials that the rebels intended to attack the government offices and on Sunday morning, December 3d, about 4 o'clock, a large body of soldiers and troopers (about 400) were marched to the stockade which at this time was occupied by about 1700 of the insurgents. It was the intention of the commander of the military to order them to surrender and give up their arms, but the diggers did not give them time to do this, for they no sooner got within range than the diggers fired upon them from the stockade; of course a general battle was the consequence, in which about 30 of the diggers were killed, many more wounded and several taken prisoners. The loss on the other side was not so great, but I do not recollect the exact number of the soldiers killed.

As may be supposed these events caused the greatest excitement. The district of Ballarat was under martial law for several days, but owing to the prompt measures taken by the government, peace was restored, and everything has since been quiet. The rebels who were taken prisoners were committed for trial, on the charge of high treason—their trial comes on in a few days, and I shall probably not close this until the result is known. The prisoners who were taken at the burning of the hotel, were tried last week and acquitted.

I forgot to state that Bently, the suspected murderer, was arrested soon after the burning of the hotel, on a charge of murder. He was tried, and the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter—he was sentenced to three years hard labor on the roads. It is reported that the magistrates, or at least one of them, before whom Bently was first brought, was a partner in the Hotel; which is said to be the reason why he was discharged. I cannot say whether there is any truth in this report or not, at any rate there seems to have been something of the kind at work. The magistrates, I believe, have since been dismissed.

It must not be supposed that this affair of Bently's was the sole cause of the collision between the diggers and the military. Under the late Latrobian administration, the diggers and the government were always at variance—this arose in a great measure not from any great objection to the laws which were passed for the management of the gold fields, but was brought about by the mal-administration of those laws; by the set of worthless incapables who were too often placed in office. That there has been gross mismanagement on all the diggings by the officials, no one denies, not even the Executive and Governor, but there has been nothing to warrant a resort to physical force for a redress of the grievances of which the diggers complain.

On the arrival of Sir. Charles Hotham as Governor of the Colony, every one looked to him as the man who was to set every thing right. Far too much was expected of him. He promised to do everything that lay in his power, for the welfare of the colony and the people. But because he has not yet effected all the reforms that are needed, there are some persons here who denounce him as the author of all the mischief that has occurred. But the colonists (for it was not the colonists who were engaged in the Ballarat affair) and the majority of the diggers believe that he will conduct his administration in accordance with those principles which he enunciated on his arrival; when he said that in conducting his administration he would endeavor to do his duty to the people of the colony—that he would turn neither to the right nor the left and would conduct his administration on the principle that "all power springs from the people." I believe he is disposed to do justice to all, so far as lies in his power, but we cannot expect any great change in political affairs until the inauguration of the new constitution, which, when fairly at work, will banish class legislation from the land and give justice to all.

No one expects that the prisoners now awaiting trial in Melbourne will be found guilty of high treason. Some even feel confident that they will be acquitted altogether, but it is more probable that they will be found guilty of some lesser crime, but to acquit them altogether it is thought would not be politic. Some of them are undoubtedly to be pitied as the majority of those engaged in the affair were led on by a few evil designing men, friends neither of the diggers or the government.

[TO BE CONCLUDED TO-MORROW.]

Roman Catholic Address.

The following is the closing sentence of the address of the Roman Catholic Bishops at the Conference recently held in Baltimore:

Beloved Brethren of the Laity, we embrace you all with paternal affection, and entreat you to walk circumspectly, for the days are evil.—You know what manner of precepts we have given you in the name of the Lord Jesus: for this is the will of God, your sanctification. Be peaceful, sober, just and faithful in the performance of all duties toward all mankind. Practice patience, forbearance, charity toward all. In the exercise of your rights as free citizens, remember your responsibility to God and act as freemen, but not as having liberty as a cloak for malice, but as the servants of God. Respect and obey the constituted authorities—for all power is from God, and they that resist, resist the ordinances of God and purchase for themselves damnation.

To the General and State Governments you owe allegiance in all that regards the civil order; the authorities of the church challenge your obedience in the things of salvation. We have no need of pressing this distinction, which you fully understand and constantly observe. You know that we have uniformly taught you, both publicly and privately, to perform all the duties of good citizens, and have never made, even to the highest ecclesiastical authority, any engagements inconsistent with the duties we owe to the country and its laws. On every opportune occasion we have avowed these principles, and even in our communications to the late Pontiff we rejected as a calumny the imputation that we were in civil matters subject to his authority. Be not disturbed at the misstatements of our tenets which are daily made, or at the effort to deprive us of our civil rights and of the confidence and esteem of our fellow-citizens.

Formidable as is the combination for this purpose, we do not despair that the justice and good sense of the nation will soon discover the groundless character of the suspicion thrown upon the fidelity of Catholics, whose religion teaches them to respect and maintain the established order of society, under whatsoever form of government they may be placed. Brethren, let the light of your example shine before men that they may see your good work and glorify your Father who is in heaven. Pray for the conversion and salvation of all men, for this is the will of God, who desires that all men may be saved and may come to the knowledge of the truth.

DEATH OF DR. DRAPER AT SEBASTOPOL.—The Providence Journal announces the death of Dr. Isaac Draper, the American surgeon in the Russian service, whose interesting letters in the paper above named have been extensively copied in the English papers. The Journal says:—He died at Sebastopol, on the 20th of March, of typhus fever, after an illness of four weeks. He received every attention in his illness, and his funeral was attended with all the marks of official respect. The information came by a letter written at the request of his friend, Dr. Turnispeed, of South Carolina, who was himself sick at the time. Dr. Draper was the son of Isaac Draper, Esq. of South Attleboro'. He was 32 years of age, and graduated at Brown University in the class of 1844. He was a man of fine talents and education, improved by travel and study abroad.

LAUNCH OF THE SCHOONER NORTH STAR.—On Saturday afternoon last the North Star, a large beautifully modeled, full rigged Schooner, was launched from the shipyard near 8th Street, in the presence of an unusually large auditory.—This, with the exception of the Mary Stockton, is the largest vessel ever built in Manitowoc. Her length from stem to stern is 107 feet 3 inches—breadth of beam 24 feet 9½ inches—and she registers 208 47-95ths tons. She was built by E. Sorlesen, and is adapted in model and strength to any trade requiring capacity and speed. She belongs to M.F. VanVleck, and if the craft partakes in anywise of the go-ahead-spirit of her owner, it is safe to say she will prove to be a clipper. She is commanded by Capt. Henry Edwards, who was at the laying the "corner stone" of Manitowoc, and has grown up in the lake service. A "free wind" to the "North Star."—[Manitowoc Herald.

THE CROPS—Prospects.—Farmers have nothing very encouraging, of late, to say about their crops. We have enquired of many, within a few days, as to their prospects—all coinciding in the opinion that unless we have large quantities of rain within a short time the coming harvest will be a very light one. A slight rain fell on Monday night, but not moistening the ground of sufficient depth to be of lasting benefit. Corn, they say, looks very poorly, and will not amount to anything without heavy showers of rain. We hear of some farmers who have both wheat and corn in store, and will not dispose of either until the prospect brightens in favor of heavy yields the coming fall.—[Potosi Republican.

RAILROAD PROGRESSING.—The Illinois and Wisconsin Railroad was finished to Hartman's (three miles west of of Crystal lake,) on yesterday, and the passenger train will come once running through that point within a few days. It is also expected to finish the road to Woodstock by the 15th June, and then two passenger trains will be run each way daily.

The Fox River Valley Railroad was finished up to Crystal Lake yesterday, and a regular train will run from this city to that point as early as the first of next week.—The track will be continued and finished to McHenry during the coming month, and we are assured it will be to the State line early in August.—[Chicago Tribune.

A NEW CHURCH PARISH.—A new Episcopal Parish was organized at Two Rivers, on Monday last by the Rev. M. Hoyt, under the title of St. Paul's Church. Wm. Aldrich was chosen Senior Warden, and J N Fisher Junior Warden, L S House, Jas Teele and ——— McDonald were chosen Vestrymen. L S House, Secretary of the Vestry, Jas. Teele Treasurer. The Rev. M. Hoyt is holding church services at Two Rivers once in two weeks, and sufficient interest is already indicated to warrant the hope that a church building will be erected there at no very distant day.—[Manitowoc Herald.

CITY MATTERS.

CIRCUIT COURT—May 30.

JUDGE HUBBELL, PRESIDING.

In the Circuit Court yesterday morning, GEO BRYANT was sentenced to the state prison for one year.

In the case of John Goodman, convicted of assault with intent to kill, application was made for a new trial, and the counsel was granted until Friday morning, to furnish evidence, &c., and at that time to argue the motion.

In the afternoon, the chancery cases came up, many of them of old standing—the records looking rusty.

POLICE COURT—May 29th.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, ESQ., POLICE JUSTICE.

LARCENY IN A SHOP.—Emily F. Langdon was brought down by deputy sheriff Wasson, and examined on a charge of stealing from the shop of Mrs. Wheeler, on Wisconsin street, about two weeks since, fourteen yards of silk and twenty-four yards barage, of the value of $38. The woman had a child about one year old—was the wife of a sailor, and had just come here when she committed the act. The evidence was plain as to the act, and she was committed for trial in default of the lowest bail the Court could receive—which was $200.

We have no desire in any way to shield the guilty, or to write one word calculated by any construction to prevent the full execution of justice; but as we looked upon that unfortunate young mother, guilty as she is of theft, and that in a country where all can get an honest living who desire it, we felt, we assert, that there is no justice or humanity in shutting up for the next three months before her trial, in our jail, that woman and her infant child, to breathe its tainted atmosphere. It would have been an act of mercy to that mother and child to have sent them to the State Prison, for there they would have pure air to breathe. In that pandemonium, standing in the heart of the wealth of this city, a streak of pure atmosphere would be as strange as a minister's visit.

LARCENY IN A WAREHOUSE.—John Foster was brought down from jail by officer Parsons, charged with having stolen from the warehouse of D. L. Button, a coat of the value of six dollars.—The defendant waived an examination, intimating that he should in all probability be committed anyhow. The bail was fixed at $300, in default of which he was committed back to jail till the next term of the Circuit Court in September. Foster is an old thief, and has been in the State Prison, according to his own showing, seventeen years of his life. On a trial for theft at the last term of the Circuit Court he was acquitted.

A man named John Donnegan was taken to jail on a charge of threatening to set fire to the barn of Michael Burke, the grader. He was arrested by constable Ryan, and a warrant afterwards issued against him. He will be examined this morning.

New Advertisements.

The card of Messrs. CAESAR, FOOTE & GORDON will attract attention, and deserves it. Just now, one of the greatest needs of our city is a reasonable multiplication of wholesale firms, in proportion to the rapid development of the country. Competition is the life of business, and all will be bettered by such an increase of wholesale houses. The firm above named have taken one of the handsome new stores in the U. S. Block, and will fill it with a very extensive stock.

MACK BROTHERS are on hand again with a very full statement of the attractions of their establishment. Their store is the handsomest in the city, and with a stock of goods to match, it is not at all wonderful that customers flock together there.

F. O. MENDE invites attention to newly received PIANOS.

A. F. CLARKE, Real Estate Agent, furnishes some excellent opportunities for investments, for particulars of which, see his advertisements.

Information is wanted of CATHARINE CAESH.

CHAPMAN has just published (and we have before us now) a very handsome sectional Map of the Counties of Milwaukee, Waukesha, Racine, Kenosha, and part of Walworth, showing the streams, lakes, marshes, roads, &c. It will doubtless have a large sale.

WILSON has a list of new books, just received from the publishers.

ARNOLD, also gives a new list of books.

HOUGHTON & Co., merchants on the West side of the river, invite the attention of our readers to their extensive stock of goods, and we willingly say a good word for a good store, and fair dealers like the proprietors.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—We remind our readers that Mr. COLLINS, who sings an Irish song tells an Irish story and plays an Irish character better than anybody else can, is to give his promised entertainment at Young's Hall this evening.—We are quite safe in promising all who attend a very pleasant evening. See his advertisement.

PROMENADE CONCERT.—There was capital music and a fair attendance, considering the weather, at the Promenade Concert last evening. The ecries will be held regularly, and they are likely to be very popular.

MRS. MACREADY.—We understand that Mrs. Macready is to give one of her Dramatic and Musical Entertainments this evening at Racine, and that she will be here early next week. Our citizens have a rare treat in prospect. We shall be able to name the day soon.

FOR BUFFALO.—The propeller Alleghany will leave for Buffalo this morning, calling at all the intermediate ports. For passage apply to J. GRIFFITH, three doors from American Express Co's. office, on Huron Street.

FIGHTING IN THE STREET.—A man named George Kessen was arrested yesterday afternoon for fighting in the street. He was taken to jail by officer Meyer.

RAIN AT LAST—THE CROPS.—The long wished for rain came at last, yesterday, in gentle showers, which revived the parched earth and thirsting vegetation. We hope that the rain visited the interior, as well as the Lake Shore, for the earth needs a thorough soaking. We are glad to learn however, that the crops have thus far stood the drought amazingly well, tho' a much longer continuance of it would be destructive to the farmers' hopes.

GERMAN ASYLUM FESTIVAL.—The Fair and Festival for the benefit of St. Aemilianus Orphan Asylum attracted large crowds to Young's Hall, and was altogether successful. The net proceeds were not far from $1200,

PUTNAM FOR JUNE.—We have from WILSON a copy of Putnam's Magazine for June, a capital number, full of interesting articles, one of the best of which is "Living in the Country," by the author of "Cosas de Espagna."

WILSON also has HARPER for June.

FUEL FOR CHICAGO.—The Wayne Co. (N. Y.) Whig says that a vessel is loading at Sodus Bay, Lake Ontario, with fire wood for Chicago. The wood costs $2,25 per cord, on board, and sells for at least $5,00; leaving the vessel a profit of $2 50 or more, instead of having to come up the Lake in ballast.

DESTRUCTION OF A RAILROAD BRIDGE BY FIRE, —OSS $50,000.—The extensive Railroad bridge at Fort Edward, Washington Co., N. Y., belonging to the Saratoga and Washington Railroad Company, was entirely destroyed by fire on Friday last. It is supposed to have been set on fire by the sparks from a locomotive. The bridge cost the Company $50,000, and it is thought that it was not insured.

DEAD.—We are sorry to learn that two of the four young men lately poisoned at Juneau (of which an account will be found in another column) are dead.—[Watertown Times.

PROSPECTIVE CORN EXPORT.—The Baltimore American reckons that, at no distant period, this country will be exporting annually, one hundred and fifty millions of bushels of Indian corn, which would bring into the United States $100,000,000, and prove a greater source of substantial wealth to us than the gold mines in California.

THE CENSUS.—A paragraph in the Wisconsin of yesterday, advising people to prepare memoranda for the census takers, whose work commences to-morrow, may give unnecessary troubles. The law in this state requires a mere enumeration, specifying the deaf and dumb, blind, insane and colored persons.

Our Absence—Progress of Population—Business—Good Times.

After the luxuries and pleasures of a visit some sixty or seventy miles north-ward and an absence of some days, we are once more at home—wiser and profited in pocket considerably. We found the progress of population, building, plowing, fencing and tent-pitching very far beyond our calculation. The country north, north-east and north-west of us, will soon be, if it is not already, ahead of any other section of south-western Wisconsin—so far as population and business are concerned. The flow of population is absolutely enormous—incredible, and the new comers are evidently well to do in respect to horses, cattle and farm implements. You can see around most every shanty the living and real signs of prosperity and competency. The presumption is, they are none the less supplied with money; also, that they are industrious, thrifty and enterprising. We see none of the signs of loafersim among the new emigrants, and among the entire lot we have seen but two or three of that class who aim to live by their wits without any capital to go on.

The country ought to be pleased with the quality as well as the quantity of people moving in, and every clever soul ought to be offered and rendered cheerfully to help them along; particular attention ought to be given to those who are poor and in want of work.

The consumption of provisions and merchandise by this new mass of people will excel all preparation made by farmers and merchants and may cause serious wants and troubles. Not a bushel of grain ought to leave the county.—[Grant Co. Herald, May 29.

HOWARD FOUNDRY.—We dropped in at the Howard Foundry a few days since, and was pleased to see everything in and about it looking as busy as a bee-hive. Besides the double engine which they are building for Mr. Fisk's new boat, and one that they are re-building for the Improvement Company's steam tug, which will be out next month, they have a great rush of jobbing, which is forcing their machinery to its utmost capacity.—[Fort Howard Era.

☞ The steamer Peytona met with an accident yesterday afternoon when about three miles out on her way to Fond du Lac. Some part of her machinery gave way, disabling her in such a manner that she was obliged to come to an anchor and make signals for assistance. The steamer Barlow immediately got up steam, went out and towed her back to her dock. The damage to her machinery is but trifling, and will be repaired, so as to enable her to resume her regular trips on Monday.—[Oshkosh Courier.

OVERLAND IMMIGRATION.—Five teams drawing covered wagons, containing eight families from the East, arrived in our village on the southern road yesterday. They are to locate in the Valley of the Willow River. This party brought with them a large drove of cattle, including a number of milch cows. Another and larger party, destined for the same neighborhood, will be here in a short time.—[Hudson North Star, 23d inst.

☞ A farmer near Wingville, not a reader of any newspaper, complained to us last week, that he was offered 40 cents a bushel for his oats at home, but that he had hauled them to Galena for a higher price. He sold his load in Galena for 35 cents a bushel, owing to never more be without a paper from which he could learn where the highest prices are paid!—[Grant Co. Herald.

I must say, from my own experience and personal observations in my practice, if ever a medicine be the best one to cure promptly for the diseases in which it is recommended, it is that of female weakness, such as Prolapsus Fluor Albus, and all irregularities of the menstruation, and diseases of irritation of [illegible] organs

Those needing such a remedy should inquire into the merits of this medicine and by taking it at the recommended dose, obtain a cure. FORGE

AND BELLOWS!

THIS FORGE can be set where most convenient for light and room, and the smoke conducted to the Chimney by a Pipe

There are all sizes of Blacksmiths, Coppersmiths, &c Forges, and five sizes of Jewelers, Dentists and Chemists

It is compact—the Tuyer Iron of a superior construction—heats the iron in the quickest manner—the wind escapes from the hot air chamber through several holes in the Tuyer cap, which being cool & the fire, prevents the Tuyer from getting filled up with coal and ashes, as it will with tuyers of the old pattern, which have no such advantage to others having two Slides by which the forge can be closed by shut up, and for safety and many purposes to-doors, (particularly for Jewelers, Dentists and for chemical operations) all the fumes from charcoal and coals being conducted through the smoke pipe so when open they are entirely out of the room. It is also so constructed that fire or water can not injure the Bellows which is to the cylinder under the fire bed

It is the best Forge for Country Merchants on Railroads Public Works (for small repairs, as the same,) and for consignation to new countries, now offered to the public, and are successfully used by most of the steamers and also by the U S Army and Navy For sale by
